Retirement of R/V Wecoma and Reactivation of R/V Oceanus

Hatfield Marine Science Center Pier
Newport, Oregon
23 March 2012

Oceanus docked with Wecoma, once again, at the Hatfield Marine Science Center in Newport, Oregon, on 22 February 2012. Oceanus had traveled for 28 days from its former home at Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution, down the East Coast, and through the Panama Canal before heading northward for Oregon and her new home port.

Wecoma (right) alongside her sister ship, Oceanus, 6 December 1975, at the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution dock.
ORDER OF EVENTS

NATIONAL ANTHEM

WELCOME AND INTRODUCTIONS

MARK ABBOTT, DEAN
College of Earth, Ocean, and Atmospheric Sciences

GUEST SPEAKERS

BAUKE (BOB) HOUTMAN
National Science Foundation, Section Head
Ocean Sciences Division

SABAH RANDHAWA
Oregon State University
Provost and Executive Vice President

RICHARD (RICK) SPINRAD
Oregon State University, Vice President for Research
OSU Alumnus in Physical Oceanography and Marine Geology
OSU Alumni Fellow

ROB MUNIER
Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution
Vice President, Marine Facilities and Operations

JOHN BYRNE
Oregon State University, President Emeritus
Professor Emeritus and Past Dean (School of Oceanography, OSU)

CEREMONY TO RETIRE THE R/V WECOMA

CEREMONY TO REACTIVATE THE R/V OCEANUS

RECEPTION AND SHIP TOURS